

National Structured Settlements Trade Association

Benefits of NSSTA membership

- Access to industry research and analysis
- Invitations to member briefings on legislation, regulations and court decisions that impact injury litigation and government benefits
- Attend NSSTA's meetings, which typically carry CE credits in 50 states, and network with industry professionals
- Access to a database of federal and court documents covering tax, litigation and structured settlement law
- Have your interests represented before federal and state elected officials and regulators

NSSTA meetings

CE credits, networking and a chance to hear the experts

Whether your goal is networking, receiving CE credits, or hearing from industry and government leaders, NSSTA meetings are for you. Recent speakers include:

- Joseph Jamail, Voted "Trial Lawyer of the Century"
- U.S. Rep. David Camp, Chair, House Ways & Means Cttee.
- Hon. Jerry Whitehead, former Nevada Supreme Court Justice
- Hon. Richard Gilbert, former Presiding Judge, Ca. Superior Court
- Robert Wood, esq., "America's Best Lawyers" (Forbes)

"The tremendous tax advantages to the plaintiff that Congress created to advance the use of structured settlements can help resolve difficult cases."

William T. Robinson
Incoming president, American Bar Assn.
2011 NSSTA Annual Convention

Personalized marketing materials

As a NSSTA member, you can personalize NSSTA's promotional materials to help you gain new clients. That includes adding your name, company logo and contact information for a truly professional look.

What is NSSTA?

The National Structured Settlements Trade Association (nssta.com) is America's largest association of structured settlement professionals. Our membership includes 1,200 structured settlement consultants, attorneys, insurance professionals and others who benefit from NSSTA's lobbying, legal research, CE offerings, networking and other activities.

Our members are involved in negotiating, implementing and supporting structured settlements, including periodic payments, to help those harmed by injury, their dependents, and those involved with wrongful death claims. NSSTA's membership categories include:

Producers: Those directly involved in negotiating structured settlements to resolve claims

Providers: Includes life insurance, trust and other financial companies.

Claims companies: Includes property/casualty insurance companies, self-insureds, and other firms whose claims work benefits from NSSTA's efforts

Associate members: This category is for individuals such as plaintiff and defense counsel, international structured settlement consultants and those involved with Medicare set-aside services.

Contact us

Since 1985, NSSTA has been the leading voice of the structured settlement industry. We'd like to hear from you. For more information, please contact us:

National Structured Settlements
Trade Association
1100 New York Avenue, #750W
Washington, D.C. 20005
202 289 4004 (Phone)
Info@nssta.com
www.nssta.com